Client Case Study

CREST

Engineering Associates Inc.

Crest Engineering & The Curchin Group – Growing Together

In 1981, Crest Engineering began as a small three man office in downtown Hightstown, New Jersey. Pete Strong, one of the founding Partners, wanted to find a certified public accounting firm with a solid reputation in the local community that understood the needs of a growing professional services enterprise. A trusted source recommended The Curchin Group. Twenty five years later, the Crest Engineering and Curchin relationship is still going strong.

Today, Crest Engineering has grown to a multi-million dollar enterprise with two offices in New Jersey and an office in Florida. Curchin provides tax planning and compliance on an on-going basis. Over the years, the Company has also assisted Crest Engineering with financial planning, cash flow management and succession planning. In working with Curchin, Crest Engineering has never had an unresolved federal or state tax issue. Pete Strong believes that this perfect track record is due in large part to Curchin's strong accounting and tax knowledge and proactive client service.

"Pete Pfister and the entire Curchin team are very proactive in managing Crest Engineering's tax and financial situation. I find it very comforting to know that this qualified and caring group of professionals is watching out for our firm."
