

Credit Union Seminar: Mid Year Economic Update for 2013 and Beyond

June 4, 2013

Economist Joseph J. Seneca, Ph.D. offers an expert view on the latest outlook for both the New Jersey and national economies, including an overview of the State's economic development programs, as well as the economic impact Superstorm Sandy is likely to have on New Jersey.

Find out how critical factors could affect your credit union and its members now and in the future.

Topics covered will include:

- The state of key economic indicators including labor markets, GDP, housing, and personal income
- The outlook of the New Jersey economy, focusing on recovery in employment, job changes by business sector, and the state's housing market
- The economic and fiscal impacts of Hurricane Sandy
- Key takeaways for your credit union

Date: Tuesday, June 4, 2013

Time: Registration and Refreshments
8:00 a.m.

Seminar
8:30 - 9:30 a.m.

Location: Hilton Woodbridge
120 Wood Avenue South
Iselin, NJ 08830

Reserve your seat today by phone or email to:

Dawn Grossi
The Curchin Group
732.747.0500
dgrossi@curchin.com

Keynote Speaker | Joseph J. Seneca, Ph.D.

Joseph J. Seneca is Professor of Economics at Rutgers University's Edward J. Bloustein School of Planning & Public Policy. He is the author of over 150 articles, reports, and books on economic policy, public finance, environmental economics, and state economic development. Dr. Seneca has taught at all levels of instruction throughout his career at Rutgers and has received numerous awards for exemplary teaching and contributions to public service. For many years he served as Chairman of the New Jersey Council of Economic Advisors, a non-partisan advisory body to the Governor and Legislature. He received the 2002 Educator of the Year Award from the Research and Development Council of New Jersey. He is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of Pennsylvania where he received his undergraduate and graduate degrees.

Seminar presented by:

CURCHIN